Opportunity to Contribute on Committees

Whether you have a little time or a lot of time, we appreciate diversity of people and ideas to support our environmental preservation mission. Dive in and join a committee or test the water first by joining us at a monthly board meeting. Either way, we invite you to get to know us better. You can learn more and find board meeting information on wclra.org.

▶ Communications Committee: This team creates and shares relevant information with our members, prospective members and the public, including managing our website, newsletters, member mailings, and media relations. If you enjoy writing or nature photography, consider joining our group. Contact Barb Luck, anyluckhere@hotmail.com, 651-214-4262.

▶ Education Committee: Is teaching and advocating for environmental protection of water resources your interest area? WCLRA has programs geared to children and adults alike. An example is the Youth Environmental Stewardship program which gives elementary students a hands-on experience with nature. Help us with this important role. Contact Craig Walkey, cwalkey@centurytel.net, 715-354-7386.

▶ Finance/Fundraising Committee: Are you good with “numbers”? Are you interested in pursuing donations, grants and special fund-raising events to support our goals? Contact Ed Fischer, efischer812@gmail.com, 715-635-7704.

▶ Government/Environment Issues Committee: If monitoring and responding to legislative activities and zoning issues catches your attention, this committee serves this influential function. This group provides science-based information to help inform legislators, local officials and the public. Contact Dave Vold, natland2002@yahoo.com, 715-635-2034.
